University of Michigan Medical School

I am eager to meet my intern team at Duke, and know that we'll have an exciting four years together. I am particularly impressed with the institution's faculty and residents, and am confident that we will learn a great deal from them. I am looking forward to moving to North Carolina and promise not to bring any single-digit Michigan temperatures with me!

Avis M. Carr
Brody School of Medicine at East Carolina University

"I am very excited about doing my Ob/Gyn training at Duke, a program dedicated to education, research, and patient-care. I am also excited to embark on a journey in women's health as I continue to pursue a life time of learning. In my spare time, I enjoy reading novels, and playing volleyball and softball."

Lauren N. Collins
University of North Carolina School of Medicine

"I completed my undergraduate education at North Carolina State University and attended medical school at University of North Carolina Chapel Hill. I am eager to start residency training at Duke despite the conflicted loyalties I will have during basketball season when Duke plays the University of North Carolina. During my free time, I enjoy jogging, cooking, spending time outdoors, and watching the Wolfpack."

Beverly A. Gray
University of North Carolina School of Medicine

I'm originally from Western North Carolina and after finishing undergraduate studies at University of North Carolina, I served with my husband as a volunteer with the Peace Corps in Ecuador. My passion is international women's health. During medical school, I had the privilege of working with the Honduran Health Alliance, a student group that serves rural women's groups in Southern Honduras.

John M. Nakayama
University of Hawaii, John A. Burns School of Medicine

I was born and raised in Honolulu, Hawaii and will soon graduate from the University of Hawaii, John A. Burns School of Medicine." I enjoyed my Ob-Gyn rotation at Duke last October and am eager to return to Duke. Over the years I have developed a strong interest in gynecologic oncology, but look forward to all of the residency training.
