THE F. BAYARD CARTER SOCIETY OF OBSTETRICIANS AND GYNECOLOGISTS

SEVENTY-SECOND ANNUAL MEETING

September 15-17, 2022
St. Louis, Missouri

CELEBRATING DR. CARTER, TODAY

The Carter Society Meeting

The gathering is designed to promote the legacy of Dr. F. Bayard Carter and the proud heritage of the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology, which is steeped in a history of excellence.

In addition, each year the president of the Carter Society participates in our annual Research Day as a judge, and many members have come back to teach or to host various functions for the residents so they may get a “glimpse” of what the Carter Society could mean to them.

It is important that we remember our heritage and those who worked so hard to help perpetuate the high quality and activities of the department. We are one of the very few departments in the United States who have such a significant group of individuals who are invested in their department.

MEETING DESCRIPTION AND FOCUS

This meeting is directed toward an audience of past residents, fellows and faculty who have the common bond of post-graduate education in the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology at Duke University Medical Center. The society is named in honor of the first Professor and Chairman, F. Bayard Carter.

MEETING FUNDING

The meeting is funded entirely by the membership of the F. Bayard Carter Society and the Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

OBJECTIVES OF THE SCIENTIFIC SESSIONS

The scientific program is designed to enhance the knowledge and practice of obstetrics and gynecology. Speakers were chosen from the membership of the society as well as visiting faculty to present relevant clinical and scientific information essential to understanding current problems in human reproduction and women's health care.

THE LIAM HAIM MEMORIAL LECTURE

In memory of Dr. Haim as a dedicated physician, we are honored to receive this lectureship and look forward to learning more about the ever-challenging field of reproductive medicine.

Liam Haim, MD

The family of Dr. Liam Haim established the Liam Haim Lectureship to bring thoughtful leaders to present to our membership specifically on topics in women's reproductive health and infertility. This lectureship is to be presented annually as part of the scientific program of the F. Bayard Carter Society Meeting. These funds are used exclusively to support women's health efforts in Duke's Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology.

Dr. Haim was an alumnus of Duke University, 1951; Duke Medical School, 1955; and housestaff, 1960-1964. He died in January 2004. He was a gentle and conscientious physician who cared about his patients and was supportive of learners. He was a loyal member of the Carter Society and contributed generously to its fundraising efforts. After leaving Duke, Dr. Haim lived in Silver Springs, Maryland, where he practiced general obstetrics and gynecology for more than 30 years.

2022 LIAM HAIM MEMORIAL LECTURER

Emily S. Jungheim, MD, MSCI

Emily S. Jungheim, MD MSCI, is the Edmond Confino, MD, Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology at Northwestern University Feinberg School of Medicine, and Chief of Northwestern's Division of Reproductive Endocrinology and Infertility. She has a busy clinical practice and conducts research focused on modifiable risk factors and reproductive health outcomes.

Outside of Northwestern, Dr. Jungheim is the incoming REI Division Chair and member of the Board of Directors of the American Board of Obstetrics and Gynecology. She also serves as an Associate Editor with Fertility and Sterility Reports, and on the editorial boards of Fertility and Sterility Science, and the Journal of Assisted Reproduction and Genetics.

Dr. Jungheim is a Midwesterner through and through, but she is grateful for the four formative years she spent in North Carolina as a Duke resident (Class of 2005).
